Owen: I'm an identical twin. I really like it! At school my brother Oscar's in a different class from me. We like sports and we are good students too! We've got dark hair and brown eyes, but I've got long hair and Oscar's hair is short. It's our mother's idea. That way our family, friends and teachers haven't got a problem with who is Oscar and who is Owen.

Connor: I'm from a big family. I've got four sisters. They've all got brown eyes and long dark hair, but I've got short curly fair hair and blue eyes the same as my dad. In the morning seven people for the bathroom is a bit difficult, but I really like my big family. We're all good friends. I'm the baby of the family, and my sisters are really nice to me.

Jane: I haven't got any brothers or sisters, but I've got five aunts and uncles. I've got sixteen cousins to play with in the school holidays! I've got a lot of friends at school I can chat with on the computer, and my best friend lives near me. She's got two brothers and a sister and her house is crazy!! I love it.

Audioscript

Presenter: Noel Peters is 13. He is a dancer and actor in the musical Billy Elliot in New York. Today he talks to Lindsey Frost.

Lindsey: Noel, you work six days a week in the musical. What is a typical day for you?

Noel: I usually get up at nine o'clock, do dance exercises, and have breakfast at half past ten. Then at half past eleven I study for three hours. I don't go to school, I have a tutor in my hotel room. I have lunch at half past two, and then I do two hours of dance classes from three o'clock to five o'clock. The show starts at seven o'clock and finishes at ten o'clock, so I have dinner at eleven o'clock at night. I go to bed at twelve o'clock.

Lindsey: Wow! Do you sometimes go home?

Noel: Oh yes! I play Billy Elliot for one week, and go home to Boston for two weeks. At home, my routine is different. I get up at five o'clock to do dance exercises. Then I have breakfast at seven o'clock and go to school. School finishes at half past one so I have lunch at home at two o'clock and then I go to dance classes.

Lindsey: What time do they finish?

Noel: About six o'clock. At home I have a tutor at half past six for two hours. Then I have dinner at about half past eight and go to bed at ten o'clock

Lindsey: Wow! It's a long day!

Noel: Yes, but I love it! Billy Elliot's a great musical!

Rachel: Yes, that's right, I have a normal timetable from nine o'clock until three o'clock - but at home, not in a classroom in a school.
Interviewer: Have you got a tutor?
Rachel: No! I choose what to study with my mum. Then, we buy the books online.
Interviewer: So what do you do?
Rachel: Well, I do a lot of projects. I find information on the Internet and I also use home education websites.
Interviewer: But isn't it boring studying at home?
Rachel: No, not at all because I do projects I like. I can watch documentaries on TV or online. And I live near London so I can go to museums. They've got special activities for teenagers so you can learn a lot!
Interviewer: But you can't do PE at home. What about exercise?
Rachel: I go to a sports centre with a group of other children who also learn at home.
Interviewer: What are your favourite subjects?
Rachel: History – I love it! And ICT. I do computer courses at the library in my town. They're for adults, but I do them too.
Interviewer: What do you like about home education?
Rachel: Umm, I really like it because I can study interesting things, and I can study when I want. And I don't wear a uniform.
Interviewer: And is there anything you don't like?
Rachel: Well, I haven't got a science lab to do experiments. My mum says I can't do them here - it's dangerous!

Presenter: Today I'm talking to Steve Lawton, an animal control expert in London. Steve, can you tell us about your job?

Steve: Well, I help people who are having problems with wild animals. Here in London, more and more people have wild animals in their houses or gardens. People have crocodiles, birds, snakes, and even lions and tigers.

Presenter: Really?

Steve: Yes. People buy them when they're babies – and they're small – but then they get big and people don't want them. A big adult animal can be dangerous and can hurt you! So my job is to take animals like these to a zoo. You can't have a dangerous pet in a normal house!

Presenter: No, of course not!

Steve: Also, small pets like birds or spiders can escape, and it's my job to hunt for them. They usually hide in the house, but sometimes they go into other people's houses too. Can you imagine seeing a three-metre snake in your house when you open the front door – like one woman this week? That's not nice!

Presenter: Ugh, no! I hate snakes! Does this happen a lot?

Steve: Oh yes, maybe once or twice a month! But I always catch them again.

Presenter: I can see you love wild animals, Steve.

Steve: Yes, but not as pets. My daughter is asking for a tarantula at the moment, but I think a hamster is a better idea!

Jake: Hi, Auntie Lucy!

Lucy: Hi, Jake! How was your weekend? Was it good?

Jake: It was fun, thanks!

Lucy: Were you at home?

Jake: No, we were in a little village in the mountains. Mum and Dad were there twenty years ago.

Lucy: Great! Was it very quiet?

Jake: No, it wasn't! You see, when Mum and Dad were there it was very small, with only a few houses, a village shop, and a little bar. So it was good for a quiet family weekend. But this time the village was very different!

Lucy: Oh! Was it?

Jake: Yes. There were a lot of new houses. And in the village there was a sports centre and a new supermarket. There were a lot of people everywhere. Mum and Dad weren't very happy!

Lucy: Oh dear. What about you?

Jake: Oh, I was really happy! There were a lot of things to do. In front of the sports centre there was a skate park, and there were a lot of teenagers there. So it was great!

Lucy: That's nice.

Jake: And one of the restaurants was a pizzeria. It was perfect. There was wi-fi in the pizza place too, to chat to my friends at home.

Lucy: What about your parents?

Jake: Well, they weren't very happy to see people everywhere, so on Saturday they were up at seven in the morning for a long walk up a mountain. For them it was fantastic, but I preferred the village!

Gemma: Did you stay in a hotel?
Kirstie: No, I didn't. All the people on the training camp lived near the university in a student residence. It was great, and I made a lot of friends.
Gemma: Cool! What did you do there?

Kirstie: Well, it was a lot of work! There were some really good players so it was all very serious. We did lots of different types of exercises. And, of course, we played a lot of matches!

Gemma: Right!

Kirstie: And we had classes in other things too. We learnt about healthy food, what to eat before a match, and how important it is to study and be a good student.

- Mark: Where are you going to go on holiday this year, Fernando?
Fernando: We're not going to go anywhere. We're going to have a 'staycation'.
Mark: A what?
Fernando: A staycation. 'Vacation' is the American word for holiday, so 'staycation' is a funny way to say that you stay at home for your holiday.
Mark: Oh, right! Well, that sounds boring.
Fernando: But, no. It isn't. The idea is you go out and do things you don't usually have time to do.
Mark: For example?
Fernando: Well, we're lucky. We live by the sea but also near the mountains. It's a fantastic place for a staycation! So my parents, my brother and I made a list of the places we wanted to visit. We started our 'staycation' a few days ago. We go out every day. The only difference is at night we go home.
Mark: Right! So, what are you going to do tomorrow?
Fernando: Let's see. It's day three of our 'staycation' holiday. We're going to get up early and go for a walk on the beach tomorrow. Then we're going to visit the Maritime Museum – my dad says it's amazing! After that we're going to have lunch at a beach restaurant, and go to the beach to relax and swim.
Mark: It sounds great!
Fernando: Yes, we're going to have a really good staycation.
Mark: What are you going to do the next day?
Fernando: We're going to get up at six o'clock. Then we're going to go to the mountains to meet some friends for a picnic next to a big lake.
Mark: Fantastic! What other plans have you got?
Fernando: I don't know! But something fun. Staycations are brilliant!

- 3 My cousin, Sarah, lives in New Zealand and I live in England. Our lives are very different. When I have summer holidays, in July and August, it's winter in New Zealand. So, when I go to the beach, Sarah goes skiing. In winter, when it's rainy or snowy in England, it's summer in New Zealand. Sarah's family usually go to the beach in December for a whole month, because it's their summer holidays! And in February and March when it's the beginning of spring for me, it's the beginning of autumn for Sarah. It's very strange!
